

UPHAM TELLS MORE OF G. O. P. FINANCES

Treasurer Now Admits He Had Quota of States and That It Was $4,800,000

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, Sept. 10.—Republican National Treasurer Fred W. Upham told the Senate committee investigating campaign funds today that he took full responsibility for the proposal to raise the limit of republican campaign contributions, to $10,000 from $1,000. "I hoped the lid would be raised and I did recommend $10,000 as the limit," said Upham. "I presented the proposition at the New York meeting attended by Will Hays, Charles Hollis, Alvin T. Hirt, of Kentucky, William Daugherty, of Ohio, and William Boyce Thompson, of New York. They voted me down by a big majority."

He said he then gave out orders not to send out the famous "Form 101." That form, he said, "was, and is dead." He declared he never saw a quota list for cities or any quota except that for the states, that "was prepared in my office."

Referring to republican success in gatherings funds, he said: "I believe on the showing here of results, I could, as a business man, get a job raising the Democratic campaign fund and when they reorganize their finances, I think they will adopt our system."

Summarizing the "budget and quota business" into what he called "a plain business statement," Upham said the state quota list of $4,800,000 was made up in his office and included both pre-convention and actual presidential campaign proceeds. He said $1,100,000 was raised and spent before the present budget of $3,079,000 was made up.

PREACHES FIRST SERMON SUNDAY

New Methodist Pastor Will Receive Formal Welcome By Other Churches Later

Rev. W. O. Sadler, newly appointed pastor of the Richmond Methodist church, will conduct his first service Sunday morning. Rev. Sadler formerly held Kentucky pastorates, but for the past few years has been connected with a West Virginia conference. He desired to get back to Old Kentucky, however, and surrendered a larger field to get back home again. He is going to be given a most cordial welcome to Richmond and Madison county. As soon as several of the other pastors of town who are away on vacation return, it is probable that the other churches will extend formal welcome to the new minister, a pretty custom here.

BRUTAL MURDER OF SCHOOL TEACHER

(By Associated Press)
Harlan, Ky., Sept. 10.—Miss Emma Parsons, of Lancaster, Ky., 25, teacher of domestic science in the Pine Mountain schools, 12 miles from here, was found near a mountain trail Wednesday afternoon with her throat cut. Authorities say she also had been assaulted. She had been visiting relatives at Lancaster. Returning to school she left the train at Dillon Tuesday morning and started for school. She had not been seen since.

The body was found several miles from Dillon, near the camp of 70 negro convicts, badly bruised, apparently with a fence rail, which was found covered with blood. Her throat was cut and the body thrown over a ledge.

A searching party from the school found the body last night. That she fought desperately for her life is shown by the appearance of the ground over which she struggled with her slayer. The body was brought to Harlan last night.

It is understood that Miss Parsons made her home with her parents in the Cartersville section of Garrard county. They had lived there but a short time, it is said. The body was shipped to Berea and will be taken thence to her home for interment.

MRS. POTEET SUES WILLIAMS FOR $25,000

Mercer Woman Claims Chief Prohibition Man Searched Her Home Illegally For Liquor

Chief Prohibition Officer Paul Williams, of Lexington, has been made defendant in a suit for $25,000 filed in the Mercer county court by Mrs. W. J. Poteet, of Harrodsburg, who charges that Mr. Williams and H. S. Milton, manager of the D. L. Moore distillery, who is made codefendant, illegally searched her home for whiskey stolen from the Moore distillery thought to have been concealed on her premises.

Harrodsburg citizens say that on the day following the robbery a number of government men and secret service officers went to Harrodsburg to follow up every clue that might lead to the discovery of the identity of the thieves. One of the places searched, it is said, was the home of Mrs. Poteet, but prohibition officers say that they found no liquor there. Mrs. Poteet, through her attorney, Col. E. H. Gaither, informed the defendants in the present suit of her intentions, but neither of the men would reveal any plans with regard to their future actions.

A Harrodsburg communication says: "Mrs. Poteet is a member of the most fashionable and aristocratic sets in this city, and her home, Avalon Court, is a handsome old Colonial type fronting on Main street, and two other streets. Mrs. Poteet is the widow of W. J. Poteet, who was county clerk of Mercer county for many years and identified with the best business life of Harrodsburg. Her first husband, John M. Moberly, was a nephew of Beriah Magoffin, Kentucky's war governor. Mrs. Poteet is prominently connected in this vicinity and also in Washington, D. C., and belongs to some of the fashionable clubs there."

"Mr. Milton is a brother-in-law of D. L. Moore, Lawrenceburg, owner of the distillery which was robbed. He is a graduate of Princeton University and was in some of the classes taught by President Woodrow Wilson. Due to the prominence of all concerned no suit that has been filed here in a long time has aroused such interest."

MELONS FROM FRENCH SEED 10 YEARS OLD

J. B. Walker, the well known horseman, is presenting his neighbors in the western part of town with some cantaloupes that for size and lusciousness are mighty hard to beat. The peculiar thing about them is that they were raised from seed which Mrs. Brutus J. Clay secured in France 10 years ago. While there, Mrs. Clay was attracted by the size and delightful flavor of the French melons, and she bought some seed and brought it back with her. Coming across this spring, she gave it to Mr. Walker, her neighbor, and he planted them. The crop has been splendid and remarkable in many ways. Mr. Walker is saving the seed of all the melons produced in order to be able to put out a large acreage next season.

WHISKY ROBBERS TO BE TRIED HERE

Danville, Ky., Sept. 10.—Allen Lawrence, guard at the Moore distillery, charged with aiding in the theft of fourteen barrels of whiskey from the distillery on the night of August 24, was given an examining trial Thursday before Commissioner Lawwill.

Fred Marsh and Esco Beazley were placed on the witness stand an testified that Lawrence broached them with plans for the holdup. After the testimony had been taken, Federal Prohibition Agent Rowan Sauley demanded that Lawrence's bond be increased from $5,000 to $10,000. J. W. Rawlings, who represented Lawrence, asked that the bond be placed at a reasonable sum. Commissioner Lawwill fixed the bond at $5,000, which was given. Lawrence did not testify. His final trial will be before Judge A. J. M. Cochran at Richmond in November.

BOGGS WANTS TO USE CONVICTS ON ROADS

State Road Commissioner to Test In Court Right To Use Them When Needed

The State Highway Commission will file suit this week against the State Board of Charities and Corrections to compel the board to furnish the commission 250 convicts to be used on the public highways.

Recently the commission authorized Joe S. Boggs, State Highway Engineer, to purchase equipment for 500 convicts, to be employed in road work. Engineer Boggs made requisition on the State Board of Charities and Corrections for the convicts, but the board declined to comply with the requisition on the grounds that the men were not available.

It is the intention of the State Highway Commission to maintain the road camps in winter and to work 500 men the year around.

Mr. Boggs said that the commission is planning to establish permanent road camps. Experience with eight camps this year has satisfied him that prisoners can be employed successfully in highway construction at $1.50 the day. He and Joseph P. Byers, commissioner of public institutions, have conferred on the subject.

Commissioner Byers desires to avoid the expense of sending men out early in the spring and returning them to prison in the fall and the attendant disorganization of the prisons, as well as disorganization of the contractor's plans by filling their shops for five months in the winter and then leaving them short-handed for the other seven months. They have agreed on the general policy for permanent camps, which now hinges on the outcome of the suit.

Contractors at present have less than two-thirds the number of men their contracts call for. This is due partly to a reduction in the prison population and partly to the fact that 50 men are working roads in Harlan, Pike, Rockcastle, Owen, Henry, Cumberland, Metcalfe and Bath counties.

It requires about 10 per cent of the prison population for duty in the kitchens, engine rooms, dining rooms, hospitals, barber shops and offices, and for "trusties." The state has contracts for 1,625 men and a prison population of 1,133.

The contractors at the reformatory are: Hoge-Montgomery Company, 600; Reliance Manufacturing Company, 400; Frankfort Chair Company, 125; Eddyville penitentiary, Reliance Manufacturing Company, 300; Kentucky Whip and Collar Company, 300; Myer-Bridges Company, 100.

AMERICAN WOMEN PLEDGED TO LEAGUE

New York, Sept. 10.—That the women of America owe to the women of the rest of the world their confirming vote on the League of Nations, is the opinion of Mrs. Philip North Moore, President of the Delegation of the National Council of Women. She is now in Christina, Sweden, for the international women's conference in session there at which 26 nations are represented. A resolution was adopted last March pledging the support of the American women to the League and it will be presented to the conference.

"It has twice been the unanimous decision of our council," said Mrs. Moore, in a recent interview cabled to the New York Times, "that we must have the League of Nations, either as signed at Versailles, or modified by reservations that protect our constitutional rights. And now Senator Harding has declared definitely against the League."

"Unless he modifies that attitude and declares himself ready to accept the League principle, it will be impossible for 10,000,000 women represented in the National Council, pledged as they are to the League, to support him."

"He will have to alter his stand if he wishes to secure the women's vote, and before taking their decision which candidate to support all American women will have to watch carefully their attitude on this most vital of all questions."

"There are no sufficient reasons," she continued, "why the present covenant should not be adopted, with reservations making the position of America clear, and there are a great many reasons why other countries would not agree to dispense with the covenant in order to accept Mr. Harding's new league."

"The peace structure has been built up with too much patient care to permit its being readily torn down to make way for some entirely new edifice which has as yet nobody's complete approval."

Mrs. Moore, who not only heads the American delegation, but is also president of the National Council, has for 14 years been an officer in the General Federation of Women's Clubs, of which she is now Honorary President and foreign correspondent. She is actively identified with many of the larger bodies of women, and has served as president of the Collegiate Alumnae and of the National Federation of Musical Clubs. She is a member of the Pan-American Scientific Congress which is to meet in Lima, Peru, next year.

CHARGE HARDING WITH HYPOCRISY

Declares For Farm Loan Act Which He Attacked In Senate

(By Associated Press)
New York, Sept. 10.—The Democratic National Committee today issued statements here and in Chicago characterizing the "hypocrisy" of Senator Harding's statement in his St. Paul speech Wednesday that he favored a farm loan act.

Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, Chairman of the Democratic Speakers' Bureau, issued the statement here, which said: "Harding knows that the act, passed by a Democratic Congress, is not functioning today because a Republican Congress in the closing hours of the last session failed to pass legislation proposed by a Democrat for its continuance."

"This act was attacked by mortgage companies and declared unconstitutional by the courts. Then, when the case was pending in the Supreme Court, the republican party, including Harding, refused to co-operate with the Democratic members of the Senate and House to enact proposed amendments."

"Harding's present attitude is one of bold effrontery—preaching in favor of a measure which he has attacked in the Senate."

Plans For Great Railway Across South America

(By Associated Press)
Santiago, Sept. 9.—Construction of a railway which would connect the Pacific Ocean with the Amazon river, serving the republics of Ecuador, Colombia and Venezuela on the north and Peru, Bolivia and Brazil on the south, is involved in a concession which has been authorized by the Ecuadorian government. Authority for construction of the railway, according to a Chilean Weekly, was obtained from the government at Quito by Ignacio Leon, former Chilean diplomat, for a syndicate capitalized at $25,000,000 members of which include many prominent Chileans.

The route would start from Port Bolivia on the Pacific and run to Port Borza on the Amazon. The proposed railway, in addition to serving a zone bordering on what is said to be among the best petroleum bearing districts in Peru, would afford a means of connecting the four large and isolated provinces of Southern Ecuador, with $500,000 inhabitants, with the rest of the country.
